The coalition with the purpose of re-entering the Reichstag arena as an opposition factor. On Saturday the Social Democratic party addressed a letter to Chancellor Wirth declaring the stabilization of the mark was the first urgent question of German policy, and that the party would participate in a new Cabinet only if it energetically pursued such a policy. A dispatch from Berlin said

The fate of the Wirth government seems to depend on the Chancellor's ability to offer an early conciliation between the United Socialists and the German People's party by inducing the latter to accept a specified declaration of its attitude toward the peace, which the former or not Americans are touched.

The German note to the Reparations Commission, made public yesterday, indicates that final stabilization of the mark can only be possible after the reparations question has been definitely settled in accordance with Germany's capacity to pay.

Since Germany cannot await such a final settlement she proposes a provisional one. But even to achieve this foreign assistance must be forthcoming. The Reichsbank is destined to be in readiness to place $20,000,000 at the disposal of the government at the disposal of the government for the purpose of stabilization.

CONDITIONS SET OUT

The project, it is set forth, depends upon the following conditions:

(1) Germany must be freed for three or four years from all payments in cash or in kind under the Treaty of Versailles, although she will continue to make deliveries in kind for the devastated areas so far as these do not entail any increase in her floating debt.

(2) Germany considers she should receive a minimum of $60,000,000 gold marks from foreign banks.

The foregoing conditions the Reichsbank considers necessary prior to giving the gold from its reserves. The money to be advanced by the Reichsbank and by the foreign banks will be administered by an independent board. When the progress of stabilization is sufficient, the advanced German government will issue an internal gold loan.

Half the proceeds of the internal loan and the full yield from the foreign loan will be used to cover the payment in cash and kind due under the Versailles Treaty. The other half of the proceeds of the loan will be applied to the reconstruction of Germany, which is to be carried on in their present form to meet that situation largely and to protect nationals of Christian nations by making them subject to trial before mixed courts, or before Consular courts. The demand of the Turkish Nationalists for complete judicial independence and suppression of the capitulations would wipe out their protection and it is certain that the American government at the Lausanne will have clear-cut views on this question to present.

Germany, moreover, states that she will abolish all dispensable departments, reduce the number of officials, avoid unproductive expenditure, restrict legislation entailing additional expenditures and reorganize the government enterprises on a productive basis.

Germany will take all requisite measures to increase production while retaining the hours of work as the normal working day, and will restrict the importation and consumption of luxuries and alcohol.

In order to execute the foregoing plans Germany proposes:

(1) Final settlement upon the amount of Germany's obligations to the largest possible moment, so that the negotiations can be completed with the liquidation of the loans can be met from the budget surplus.

(2) Freedom from payments in cash or in kind under the Versailles Treaty, with the reservations previously mentioned.

(3) Convocation of a conference of international financial experts with regard to the bank credit to be accorded to Germany, and

(4) Adoption of the suggestions of the German government regarding equal economic rights for Germany.

WOBBLES YAWPPING OF GENERAL STRIKECHICAGO MEETING OF "REDS" DISCUSSES AMNESTY FOR POLITICAL PRISONERS*INT'L. P. NIGHT WIRE:

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Discussion of a general strike, in an attempt to secure general amnesty for prisoners convicted of violating war acts, for next spring, will be taken up at tomorrow's sessions of the fourteenth annual national convention of the Industrial Workers of the World, it was announced at the close of today's meeting.

The amnesty question was brought up in a general way today when a telegram was received by the convention from L. W. W., in California, in which it was stated that a strike called by the I.W.W. had tied up the power plant project of the Southern California Edison Co. President of the Free Press, involving 1,500 men, who are striking for general amnesty for wartime prisoners and the eight-hour day. This is the second strike called by the I.W.W. in California, in which it was agreed that a strike called by the I.W.W. had tied up the power plant project of the Southern California Edison Co.

Workers have recently tried at Sacramento on a charge of criminal syndicalism, the jury disagreeing, was one of those who discussed the California situation. He said he had been advised by the Department of Agriculture in an effort to refute charges that the I.W.W. had engineered a plan to poison meat in Chicago which was intended for the United States Army during the war.

Neither Premier Poincaré of France nor Premier Mussolini of Italy can leave his capital for a conference elsewhere before proceeding to Lausanne. He has developed, but Lord Curzon, the British ambassador for Foreign Affairs, has arranged for the French and Poincaré in Paris on the way to Lausanne, probably on Thursday, and the conversation will be continued on the train to Lausanne.

Premier Mussolini will join his colleagues for a preliminary meeting at Lausanne Sunday.

REPORT OF CONSULAR

Consul Delichman at Valparaiso said in his opinion the earthquake damage north of Valparaiso was sufficient to warrant moderate financial assistance of the American Red Cross.

Many houses were destroyed and families are destitute, the message said, the probable loss of life being 1,000 and injured number between 4,000 and 5,000, according to official figures from the Red Cross.

Deaths and damage in the Antofagasta district to the south is reported to be greater from the earthquake and tidal wave.

The State Department also made public reports from American consular officers describing conditions in their districts resulting from the earthquakes.

REPORT OF CONSULAR

"Earthquake shock along the coast of Chile from Antofagasta south on the night of the 10th, 1909 elapsed since the great fire swept the city, leaving 1,000 dead and several thousand homeless. The damage to Antofagasta is not more than $25,000 and there is no loss of life.

Government wireless station destroyed, not repaired.

Deaths and damage in the Copiapo, Charanari, reported to be wiped out. Reported 5,000,000 pesos loss in Coquimbo.

Official reports from Chile concerning the extent of relief required the American Red Cross is making preparations to send several hundred portable houses to the regions devastated by the earthquake.

The exigencies of the war gave agricultural laborers high wages such as they never enjoyed in the past, and thereby gave them new standards of life and new outlook; they were placed in almost similar positions as were the town industrial workers.

CLAIMS DONT AGREE

While the political managers decline flatly to make any official predictions as to the result, the Star succeeded today in getting unofficial intimations from the various headquarters of what the managers expect.

According to the Star, the independent liberals claim for themselves 145 seats, the Progressives 100, the Laborites claim 160, the National-Liberals, 75; the Conservatives, 365, including Unionists of all sorts.

It is apparent somebody is going to be disappointed, as there are only 612 seats to be filled.

Engineer Tells What Future Has in Store

Manufacturing Possibilities Said to be Unlimited

Measures Irrigation Value in Carlot Units

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PONTERVILLE, Nov. 14.—J. B. Lippincott, of Los Angeles, consulting engineer of the Pine Flat project and the Los Angeles aqueduct, formerly in the Reclamation Service of the United States, addressing Ponterville Rotarians and Lions on irrigation possibilities of the Tule River, declared that investigation made a number of years ago showed that the 30,000-acre tract of the water was wasted by the present storage system. Improvement of the system would be a great benefit. He said that estimates show that every irrigated acre creates a car of freight traveling east or west each year, with a valuation of $500 per car. Using figures of other countries as a basis, California is only ten per cent developed.

Development of the potential water power of the West Coast of the United States will eventually make the West Coast center of manufacturing in the United States believe Mr. Lippincott. He is of the opinion that courts will finally grant water only for actual use and benefit, that in the first land cases certain water must be set aside for future use.

He declares two feet per acre sufficient for all uses.

"WON'T LEAVE COURT," CRIES CHILD BRIDE

COURT REFUSES ANNULMENT AS SOUGHT TO SENSA- TIONAL ELOPEMENT

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 14.—"I won't leave court until I am given a divorce!" cried pretty Nelle Harte Thomason of Ontario today after Judge J. W. Curtis had denied her plea that she be allowed to annul her marriage to Edgar L. Thomason.

The Thomasons were married at Chino in August, 1921, following a year of courtship. They have considerable亲戚 here at the time, when the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dinger, died last night following an operation for appendicitis at a local hospital, at the age of 28.

Mr. Dinger was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dinger, 50, of Thirteenth street, and is survived also by two brothers, Roscoe and Clarence Dinger of Upland, and three sisters, Mrs. Anna and Naomi Dinger of Upland, and Mrs. Charles of Oakdale.

The funeral will be from Draper's church, Upland, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, with Rev. Dr. A. Kent, pastor of the Upland Methodist Church, and Rev. Paul Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church, Ontario, officiating. Members of Upland Post, American Legion, to which Mr. Dinger belonged, will be in charge of the funeral rites in Bellevue Cemetery, Ontario.

The girl brought annual

new proceedings herself, but

Judge Curtis denied her plea when she admitted that she had lived with her husband after she became pregnant.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Clara Phillips, 32, who has been estranged from her daughter since the girl left home because he left her frequently alone at night.

The girl's mother and Baliff Willard, 32, finally led Mrs. Thomason from the courtroom. But not until she had reiterated her demands that she be freed from her husband.

The girl's wife will now file suit for divorce against Thomason, who did not appear in court to contest his annulment proceedings. She is represented in the action by Attorney H. J. Jolliffe of Ontario.

IT'S MOVIE DAY AT AUTO SHOW

WILLIAMS PAYS VISIT TO SHOW

sage houses resembling undulating downers, and parky little flipper-like cars.

EVERYTHING PRESENT

There is everything present to make you covetous and envious, and bring out the desire to mingle with the aristocracy. If you hesitate to speak to your own car when you meet it on the street.

But they strike one as about as stately and well-bred with a rare elegance of paint, finish, lines and tires. But the hand-me-down car of today is the equal in appearance and appliances, yes the automobile of a few years ago.

And how the prices have dropped! They seem to have come down faster than milk's alka.

Although there are still some conditions that skirts are not longer, but the ladies have simply been let go.

Beauty and simplicity seem to be the watchword of the show. The visitors don't overlook the motif.

There are open cars for all-day drives, and luminous for the hot houses variety.

Shut up in one of these beautiful lady with pink countenance, the canned salmon, or coquettish oil fresco type of car.

The show is housed in four large rooms suggestive of hangars, and you think it is flying machine in position. Some of these cars are so good that everything about them is the result of the combined efforts of the manufacturers.

MOVING THEREIN

Hot and cold water, sideboard refrigerator, cigar cutter, cigarette lighter, shaving dish, endearing Britannia, circulating library, family Bibles, thimble bottle, radio, phonograph, telephone, pinocchio desk, duplex folding bed, dumb-waiter, curling iron, suspended ball antenna for speed, leather chairs, windshields, year's supply of powdered white for use in police cars, many lights Broadway and a horn that will play grand march music, the equipment of a thoroughly up-to-date car.

Unlike the show of last year, this one doesn't occupy two stories. If there were no ground floor, and therefore there are no second-story windows.

This automobile room is an example that a man of the interior is required. The price of the room is $1000 per month, and the amount of taping reported increases.

The fact that it has become law in the British rubber colonies to prohibit the use of crude rubber in the manufacture of tires, has not been reached by the Dutch producers.

The increased tax upon crude rubber causes the price decline and the amount of tapping reported increases.

WALTER MILLER
WILL MEET RAY

Walter Miller may be one of the best middleweight
grapplers in the world today, but there is a man sent by the name of Tom Ray who holds no fear of the local star and to prove this he is headed this way for his match with Miller, which is scheduled to take place the evening of November 22 at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and the contest will be staged on a winner-take-all basis.

Ray is a legitimate middleweight. He hails from Omaha and he has been winning titles from the good eastern grappers with such consistency that even Johnny Meyers, present middleweight titleholder, has sidestepped Miller's new opportunity several times.

AD SANTEL
TO TACKLE
JOE VARGA

Light-Heavyweight Title
Holder to Meet Hungarian at Philharmonic

Ad Santel, undisputed light-heavyweight champion of the world, will defend his title here on November 29 at the Philharmonic Auditorium, against Joe Varga.
Santel is one of the toughest grapplers in the country and is certainly without a doubt a little rougher than most. He will start at 10 p.m. and will have the benefit of a full program. First round will be the longest, and the win
should be in the second round.

He is greatly through

should be in the second round.

Joe Varga, Hungarian champion holder of the European light-heavyweight championship title, Varga won his belt at a tournament held in Triest in 1912.
In this tournament Varga tangled with all the big names in Europe and came through on top.
Because of this tournament he became acknowledged champ of Europe.

The bout from all that can be learned will be a bearcat on heels and it will be worth while for wrestling fans to take in.

Chevrolets are Attraction at Big Auto Show

"Let's get some system to this line of inspection," said the Auto man to his wife.

"That is a happy thought," says
the Los Angeles Chevrolet dealers.

"Take your official program,
turn to the door plan in the center,
and then start in at the Grand entrance and proceed by degrees to see what is to be had in each exhibit."

"When you get to the second tent turn to your right and pass down the first aisle to the turn.
Just to your left you will see the superb Chevy Chevrolets, the incomparable quality cars of 1922 sensations that has set all McDonald by the ears."

"You won't know them at first glance, but when you see them
at this auto show, you will convince you that you are in the right booth."

"Aren't they a little bit of all right?" asked a man, streamlining his high color, big smile and cow-drum-type head lights with legal lenses, crowned and panelled fenders with the ribbed splash plates.

"You're right. The machine is not under the seat. It is in the rear, connected with that happy little motor by vacuum tank."

"Don't it look longer
and stronger in every way?
What do you think that quality outfit? Isn't that a beat cat?"

You've said it. How do they do it?

No raise in price but a leap in quality that has literally knocked the prop out from under the cheerful car field."

Ford Dealers be equipped to do major

Be good to your face shave with—

Barbasol

no soap—no brush—no rub—in Just spread it on and shave it off

There are still a few men left who never will believe it's possible to get through the morning shave without all the old-time apparatus—messy shaving brush, stinging soap and lather well rubbed in.

But those men belong to the same tribe who laughed at Fulton, glibbed at the telephone and knew the automobile never would be practical.

The wide-wake citizen, the man who believes in progress, the man who is always looking for a better way to do the old jobs—he's the man who swears by Barbasol.

A tube of Barbasol and a razor, that's all the shaving equipment any man needs in this day and age.

Wash the sleep out of your eyes, spread a little Barbasol on your face while the skin is still wet—no, don't rub it in—go ahead and shave.

That's all there is to it.

Barbasol fills up the tiny spaces between the beard stubble and supports the hairs so that they stand up bravely and meet the razor.

The trusty blade whisks the beard away so smoothly and painlessly you hardly believe your mirror; none of the old tugging or pulling; and man, O man, how soft and smooth your face is!

It costs you only 10 cents to try Barbasol for a week's shaving. Just fill in the attached coupon and enclose ten cents in coin or stamps and the one week's free trial tube will be sent you by return mail.

Don't be a reactionary. Be modern, get acquainted with Barbasol. You'll be friends for life. All druggists, 35c and 65c.

The Barbasol Company
Indianapolis, Ind.
10¢ a tube gives Barbasol a fine lather. Use it after a shave, and you won't need soap or water. Send your

PACKERS PLAN
LARGE MERGERArmour Company to Buy Out
Morris InterestsDeal Subject to Approval of Trade BodyProject Involves Over Five Hundred Millions(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)*
CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A packing house merger representing assets of more than $500,000,000 will be affected by Armour & Co., taking over Morris & Co., is being worked out subject to approval of the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Justice.*J. L. OGDEN ARMOUR, president of Armour & Co., has made a definite offer for the business and properties of Morris & Co., following an offer to buy by Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., Inc. Officials of both companies declined today to make known the price to be paid or to discuss the proposed consolidation.*INVENTORY UNDER WAY*It is known, however, that representatives have been representatives to Washington to determine whether the government will permit a consolidation. It also was understood that Morris & Co. are taking an inventory as the result of Mr. Armour's offer to purchase*the company. Consumption of the deal would give Armour & Co. a commanding position in the meat-packing industry. The Federal Trade Commission is the chief consideration. Consent of the majority of stockholders will doubtless be obtained, inasmuch as the large families control the bulk of the stock of the respective companies.
But the consolidation plan would not be adopted if the government authorities should advise that it resulted in a combination in restraint of trade.*COMMANDING POSITION*A consolidation of Armour and Morris companies would constitute a corporation with total assets of $1,541,000,000, capital of $180,701,- 495, funds debt of $1,350,294,000 and surplus of $42,743,392, according to the annual reports of both companies for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1932.*The commanding position of such a merger is evident from the fact that the combined total assets
of Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., the Cudahy Packing Company, the remaining components of the "big five" packing group, would be $325,765,944, and their combined capital would be $304,121,- cision by the United States Supreme Court in its last session that the government could not be held liable for damages arising out of operation of government-owned or at least $10,000,000, according to officials of the Department of

—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

F. W. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels which cause normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are a few applications could see an immediate improvement and in three months was healed. (Signed) Mrs. J.W. Sampson, 4705 2nd Ave. S., Seattle, Wash.

Keep your skin clean by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for every-day toilet purposes. Touch glands and itching, if any, with Cuticura Oil. Hot water. Dry hands dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum, a powder of fascinating fragrance.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for salons—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You
Apply a Little Musterole

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plasters. Just smear it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, sprains, pulled muscles, strains of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosty feet, colds on the chest. Keep it handy for instant use. 25c and 55c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3. Better than a mustard plaster.

Healed Her Scalp

"I was troubled for years with a dry scalp and dandruff. There were scales on my scalp and it itched terribly. I combed my hair, my hair was very dry and lifeless, and fell out when I combed it. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after a few applications could see an immediate improvement and in three months was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J.W. Sampson, 4705 2nd Ave. S., Seattle, Wash.

WENT TO THE DOCTOR AND THE DOCTOR SAID:

"These pains around your heart after eating are caused by gas pressure from the stomach. That shortens your breath and palpitation can be attributed to the same cause. Your fingers, arms and limbs feel numb and 'go to sleep' because the gas pressure restricts circulation in various parts of the body."

The best and quickest way to relieve this condition is to take Baumann's Gas Tablets before and after meals. Just swallow the tablets and get a dollar package of genuine Baumann's Gas Tablets. Very effective, painless and safe. There's nothing better for the prevention of gas and stomach trouble.

The "Mother of Medicines" Isis, the Queen and afterwards the Goddess, was called the "Mother of Medicine." In ancient Egypt, centuries ago, the priestesses were skilled in medicine. They knew the great value of medicinal plants.

Hippocrates, the "Father of Medicine," many centuries later, knew less of the merits of vegetable drugs than did the women of ancient times.

Lydia E. Pinkham, nearly 70 years ago, struck to woman her Compound, now known everywhere as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This is a woman's medicine for women's ailments prepared from medicinal plants.—Advertisement.

WORLD SEEKS AMERICAN GOLDForeign Credit Hinges on Price We Will PayAnalysis Shows Norway to Lead in SoundnessBulgarian Securities Are Market Favorites

Evidence of the credit that foreign countries command in the United States, now the financial center of the world, is gained from an examination of the prices at which American investors are willing to pay for the obligations of these governments. From a survey of this sort, the deduction is made that the Kingdom of Norway is in the soundest financial condition of any of the foreign countries that seek money in the United States, and is closely followed by Great Britain, Chile, The Dominion of Canada, the French Republic, the Argentine Republic, Belgium and Brazil.

The non-participation of Norway in the war and the success of the policy of neutrality as a financial policy is attested by the desirability of Norwegian securities in this country. The Norwegian external 6's of 1949 have a high of 115 for the present year and a low of 107.8-4, and are quoted at 110 and 10 at this time. This is a favorable showing in view of the reaction that foreign bonds have been in for the past few weeks. Great Britain's contribution to the war effort and the world's power is shown by the strength of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland 5 1/2-3 per cent bonds of 1937, which on this issue for the year is 106.7-3 and the low stands at 96. This performance is ample evidence of the financial conditions of England, and in her ability to pay outstanding obligations.

With the destruction of property and capital in Belgium, the investment public has shown a strong leaning toward the Belgian 6 1/2 per cent bonds of 1945.

Argentina credit is on a good plane, as is illustrated by the quotations on the Government of Argentina 7% bonds of 1945, which are selling around 115 1/2-4 and a high of 120.

The Argentine credit is on a good plane, as is illustrated by the quotations on the Government of Argentina 7% bonds of 1945, which are selling around 115 1/2-4 and a high of 120.

American bond firms are writing an increasing number of foreign bond issues this year, and in nearly all cases the securities are well received by American investors. Such ready acceptance of European obligations indicates confidence in the results of the continental nations to prosper and a willingness to help in the work with all surplus funds available.

LONDON MARKET

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Froth general movement in value and price of the stock exchange, with the exception of the brighter American issues, and belief that the market will have the same characteristics as the American market, are reflected in the market. In the foreign market, there is a general decline in all shares in spite of the fact that the volume of foreign exchange is up.

The noticeable extravagances of the youthful are more than offset by the larger earning power of those somewhat older and thus more prudent.

This is, no doubt, brought about by the Liberty bond issue backed up by the activities of the Federal Home Loan Bank.

These like activities have been tremendously influential in encouraging the work of investment and the work of the market, no more than begun. Much of this new investment has gone into bonds, and the investment possibilities are still more numerous than the American issues, are not yet a subject of estimate; in addition to which there are idle funds and surplus working capital released from business by the reduced prices of commodities.

Perhaps the more evident factors contributing to higher security prices today are those indicated by the rapidity with which the securities of the industrial and more thrifty American issues are rising.

The sales of stocks in the United States are up and continuing steadily, and the sales and earnings statement, November 14, shows a total of 1,000,000,000.

The market for corporate credits is not quite as prominent in London street today, although it is still active.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[By A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Speculators for the decline forced rejections of 1 to nearly 5 points in a majority of the active issues in today's stock market, being aided by heavy liquidation by discouraged holders of long stock and the closing out of the accounts of a large brokerage house, whose failure was announced this afternoon.

With the fluctuation in the foreign exchange market, early strength being followed by a period of acute weakness, particularly in continental rates. Demand sterling remained just under 4.47, while silver francs after touching $6.55, dropped back to $6.52.

As was the case yesterday, there was virtually nothing in the day's news to account for the acute weakness of the market. The chief result, possibility of unfavorable tax legislation, the Turkish crisis, failure of the Berlin reparations conference, the weakness of foreign bonds, the dropping of prices by some of the large concerns still have had a cumulative effect in the development of bearish sentiments.

Altis' short-term bond issue, due in August, 1923, for the industrials and a few weeks earlier for the rails. Slightly more than one-third of the maximum advance had been made up to date.

As was the case yesterday, there was virtually nothing in the day's news to account for the acute weakness of the market. The chief result, possibility of unfavorable tax legislation, the Turkish crisis, failure of the Berlin reparations conference, the weakness of foreign bonds, the dropping of prices by some of the large concerns still have had a cumulative effect in the development of bearish sentiments.

Altis' short-term bond issue, due in August, 1923, for the industrials and a few weeks earlier for the rails. Slightly more than one-third of the maximum advance had been made up to date.

United States Steel, which established a new high for the year, at 11 1/4, about a month ago and came within a point of that figure last week, dropped as low as 10 3/4 to-day, later rallying to 10 5/8. It is down below its high price. Creditable contribution to yield in reflection of speculative disappointment over the annual report, which showed a decrease in earnings of $6,000,000, today's news, long being approximately 5% points. Midvale dropped nearly 3 points and Lackawanna yielded 1 1/4, but the losses in Bethlehem and Republic were held in fractions, little more.

In the sharp 9-point break in North American, nearly all of which came in the first half-hour, was concentrated as a general disappointment over the form in which another distribution of treasury assets is likely to be made to shareholders. The report states that another stock issue will be made by Consolidated Gas and Columbia Gas broke more than 4 points each for the same reason.

Long-distance rails were subjected to heavy selling pressure on the theory that their market condition had become appreciably weakened by the recent reaction. Erie issues were particularly hard hit. The common dropped to 10 1/2 and closing at 10, a net loss of 1 1/4 points, and the second preferred yielding 1 1/4 on the day. Western Maryland, second preferred, fell back nearly 3 points and losses of 1 to nearly 3 points were sustained by Western, Rock Island, St. Paul common and preferred, Chicago, Western preferred and Milwaukee Public, common and preferred. Dividend-paying rails offered better resistance in the early part of the session, but later they too gave way. The New York Central dropping 2 points, Rochester 1 1/2; Northern Pacific, 3 1/2; Atlantic Coast Line, 5; Lackawanna and Atchison, 1 1/2. Mexican Pacific, which had rallied on a turnover of less than 1500 shares, Houston Oil continued in fire sale, dropping nearly 4 points, while Standard Oil of New Jersey, 2 1/2; Pennsylvania, 2 1/2; and the Pan-American issues were off 1 and 2 points. General Asphalt climbed a point.

Some of the additional weak spots were American Electric, American Car, American Smeltz, Calumet and Arizona, Jersey Central, Dupont, Krueger, Sears, Roebuck and Unilever, the declines running from 4 to 10 points. Fisher Body was the outstanding strong spot, gaining 7 points.

December Sells at New Record in Wheat Market

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—December wheat today sold at a record high on the present figures of the market, but the last figures of the market, the greatest strength in Liverpool and London, were showing a good average quality April wheat, which was being drawn from storage, but supplies are being drawn from storage and the market is underfed.

There was little to do with the market, but there was sufficient buying of December and smaller May wheat in London, which had been undrawn. Trade was slow for the season, and no gains were made, while sales were few, and the market was little.

While there was little in the export market, there was some buying of December wheat reported, which was sufficient buying of December and smaller May wheat in London, which had been undrawn. Trade was slow for the season, and no gains were made, while sales were few, and the market was little.

There was an impression in some quarters that the market would be strong in December and ending the May, giving up the December wheat, and the market would be strong in January, but the market was little.

Local buyers held little opposition to an increase in price, but the market was little.

Reports of a keen demand from the West with high regard to 1921 wheat, over Chicago, were reflected in the market.

RADIOLAND'S TOES TINGLE TO JAZZ AIRS

Listeners-in and The Times telephone were kept active late night by the jazz strains of Rinkler's Southern Six, less than twenty-four hours in Los Angeles when this musical organization from Chicago were put on by KHJ in an impromptu concert which carried The Times final broadcast period over nearly half an hour beyond its usual closing time. The kind of music that sets your toes tingling, your shoulders swaying, the kind that makes you feel all right with the world—that's the kind that Rinkler's Southern Six gave to Radioland last night, and from the time they got into their first number the telephone was besieged with requests for favorite selections from the radio. The result was that the band, consisting of the most talented and grows on one as she sings.

Thomas B. Brown, dramatic reader, contributed an English character sketch, "The Waiter's Story," to last night's final broadcast period. His clear enunciation, coupled with masterful elocutionary powers, made his reading carry strong appeal to every listener.

STRINGS ENCORED

The Los Angeles String Quartet, the members of which entertain at the Los Angeles County Hospital, gave a group of selections last night which made listeners demand more of the brilliant blending of banjo, guitar, mandolin and guitar-mandolin, producing music that carried the listener back into the Southwest, down below the Mexican border. This quartet is the chief producer of favorite musical strains. This quartet is made up of Thomas B. Brown, tenor soloist, accompanied by Bertie Jones, violin; Harold Proctor, tenor soloist, accompanied by Bertie Jones, violin; and the excellent solo last night included among them being "Thorpe" by Adams; "Macumba," by Macmurray and "Tommy Lad" by Marston. Roy E. Elliott, manager, an individual character, his rich voice and great volume, plus an artistic conception of the motif which prompted the composer to write a selection, made his interpretation of a song carry

CLUB TO RAISE FUND FOR HOME

Kiwanis Members Will Open Campaign Nov. 22

Gardena Institution Will be Taken to Van Nuys

Present Quarters Outgrown. Move is Decided On

The Kiwanis of this city has pledged itself to raise $50,000 for the construction of new quarters for the McKinley Industrial Home for Boys at Gardena. It was announced yesterday. The fund is to be raised by popular subscription. The drive will begin on Nov. 22 and continue until Dec. 1.

The home has been at Gardena for twenty-five years but has outgrown its quarters, it was stated.

It is planned to double the accommodations at present and to increase its facilities and scope of training as well.

The new buildings will be located on a 90-acre tract at Van Nuys which already has been purchased by the managers of the institution.

TO HOUSE HUNDREDS

It will have accommodations for 100 boys between the ages of 10 and 18 years, as compared to the 122 boys in the present quarters. The institution has been maintained since its inception by private subscription. It is established for the purpose of caring for and training worthy boys whose parents are either dead, separated or undesirable.

In this home they are taught work, manners, deportment, talents in addition to a rudimentary education. Courses in printing, steam laundry work, farming, gardening, stock raising, cooking, carpentry, lathing, plating, glazing and other kindred subjects are given.

TO GET EMPLOYMENT

Members of the Kiwanis Club is announcing the campaign for funds, declared that graduates of the school will be given employment by the various firms which they represent.

The present quarters are in a dilapidated condition and sadly in need of repair, it was stated. The management has decided that, rather than expand large, it is necessary to put them in good condition. It would be preferable to continue using them until the fall of 1932, when it is hoped to have the new home at Van Nuys ready.

BOTTLES CRASH, CLOUD-BURST OF BOOZE FOLLOWS

A discord in B major, B standing for booze, was played by George Contreras, shif of the dry squad of the District Attorney's office in the basement of the Hall of Records yesterday.

The crash of bottles was followed by a powerful odor of liquor, which wafted through the lower floors of the building and caused a panic.

Contreras destroyed 400 gallons of assorted liquors, much of it bad and the rest worse, 500 bottles of beer, 100 wine, seven barrels of beer, 100 cases of beer, 500 cans of wine, 500 gallons of beer.

The beer foamed and hit the ceiling, according to Contreras, indicating high alcohol.

The stuff was seized in recent raids.

and it required more than 14,000 freight cars to carry for these shipments alone. Individually the Imperial Valley has set out 10,000,000 new grape cuttings and 50,000
young pomelo trees this season for the further refreshment of humanity. The valley is the most prolific spot in the world in the character and extent of its products.

EQUALITY OF SEX
The National Woman's party is going to insist upon complete and absolute equality before the law of men and women
in public office, in educational opportunities, in the professions, in the church. In the industries and in the home. It was proposed to exclude the priesthood from their demands for equality, but the convention voted down this amendment almost unanimously. If the women have their way the priests of the new day will all be perpetual ladies.

The delegates at the convention also made the customary insistence for one more standard for men and women. In their relations to each other and to society
the sexes must be treated alike. The women in politics will never be happy until some passionate vampire is lynched for debauching some innocent bachelorette. It is as much a crime for a woman to deceive a man into dalliance as it is for the man to entice the girl through affectionate promise. That is what the National Woman's party contends. They are for the single gold standard.

As a political organization they have nursed their banner of sex equality to the max. It is a case of one for all and all for one. No half-way measures will do.
No compromise is possible.

INDIVIDUAL POLITICS
The political adventurers who are going to amalgamate the farmers and manufacturers of the country into one party under the leadership of Barney Darrow have a distinctive organization for political ends so also should the housewives and the sociable writers. If union labor must have a party of its own, as also should the Knights of Columbus and the Elks.
If Congress is to be divided up into blocs and humanity into minute political groups the time will come when every man will be his own political party.
We have the La Follette party and the Jim Road party now. Soon we will be having the John Doe party and the Richard Dog party.

The time will come when every man will be expected to carry a little tag designating the organization to which he belongs.
Then, if somebody switches the tags during the night, it would be difficult for a guy to tell whether he was a Henry K. Smithers Republiker or a mere Randall bush.

In the ordinary and customary course of State affairs Mr. Stephens in the remaining two months of his incumbency as Governor will have the appointing of a number of men or women to very important State offices. These appointments may or may not be in harmony with the expressed will of the people of California for greater efficiency and economy in State affairs.
That must fit with the perceptions and the conscience of the Governor.

In the past Mr. Stephens has made appointments that have had their share of the purpose of influencing selfish legislation. The individual political party would be very much in order. The Henry Ford party and the Lydia Pincham party would be quite impressive, but the Jezebel Hicks party would have to blend with the Cordell VanApps organization to make a dent in society.

Mussolini, the monarchist
that one who is not a radical at 20 is without heart and who is still a radical at 40 is without brains. Perhaps this intellectual development explains the anomaly of Benito Mussolini, who was once secretary of the Italian Socialist party and is now regarded as the most intransigent enemy of Socialism in the whole kingdom.

Mussolini was the editor of the strongest Socialist newspaper in Italy when the war began. Two years after it had been brought to a victorious issue he was editor
and publisher of a powerful conservative newspaper. He now says that the Socialist theories are appealing to youth, but that they will not work—a failing that is applicable to certain Socialists as well. "Bolshevism is Bolshevism in action," he said recently to an American correspondent. "When I saw what happened after its application in Russia and during its attempted application here in Italy I was cured. The Italy we fought for means more to us than Socialism.

When we (the Fascists) saw the Socialist government sacrificing all that we had won on the battlefields we rose against it and destroyed it."

Mussolini is a monarchist. He says that he is so because he is a practical man.
"From what I have seen of democracy," he adds, "it is a government of numbers without regard to brains. Italy must be ruled by intelligence, not by the counting of noses. A bad policy does not become a good one because it is supported blindly by the masses. A democracy could be successful only if an intellectual test were applied to all those who came to vote. No one should be permitted to cast a ballot on a measure that he does not understand."

Perhaps Mussolini does not understand that he is himself even more of an experiment than the democracy which he condemns. He seems to be unaware that wherever democracy has received a fair trial it has stuck. Where people have once tasted self-government it is never by the will of the majority that they return to monarchical forms.

Modern peoples are very apt to deny that any man has a hereditary right to dominion over his fellows. Most countries prefer self-governed to being well-governed.
They want to play the game of government
while they are learning it.

The Times feels, however, that the Governor owes to his high office and to the place as a citizen which he hopes soon to fill an obligation that demands his most earnest and intelligent attention. In no case is the Governor's responsibility greater than in his choice of men to fill vacancies
on the State Railroad Commission. Here particularly the Governor may greatly serve or greatly injure the people and the State of California. Here men are needed whose integrity, whose experience, whose training and whose ability are of the highest, and beyond question.

A most urgent campaign is being induced in to persuade the Governor to name Eugene Shore of the Board of Control a member of the Railroad Commission. From the standpoint of politics Mr. Shore, perhaps, might logically present his claims.

More than a year ago, following his election to the Los Angeles city Board of Education, Mr. Shore accepted appointment from Mr. Stephens to the State Board of Control.

A few months later developments in the divorce court in Los Angeles made it indicated to use Mr. Shore to any great extent in the publicity end of the Governor's campaign for re-election, but in a confidential capacity, as a solicitor for campaign funds and as a politician whose conscience did not forbid him to either suggest or demand that State employees and officers "come through" with a week's or a month's salary for campaign purposes,

he had his place.

It is unlikely that Gov. Stephens knew the details of Mr. Shore's activities. If he is in ignorance of them it is now his duty to discover them and to permit them to have weight in his consideration of Mr.
Shore's availability. Politicians or Mr.
Shore's type do not serve the public so much as they serve themselves.

A Railroad Commissioner whose chief responsibility is his nerve in fighting campaign contributions from lesser politicians is not a desirable functionary and in the end will reflect credit on William D. Stephen's neither as Governor nor as citizen.

RECALLING WOOLWINE

The decision of a majority of the ministerial "anti-Woolwine" bloc here to reconsider their plan to launch a recall against the District Attorney is a wise
one, in the judgment of The Times.

There is no reason for such a recall movement; it is unfair and unnecessary and is not in keeping with the best interests of the public.

The chief reason advanced why Mr. Wool-wine should be recalled—kicked out of the office of District Attorney is his advocacy during his campaign for Governor—of a modification of the prohibition laws to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

The position of The Times as to the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment has been made clear. To the best of its ability this paper has waged unremitting warfare against all persons and interests which would attempt to wisk a complacent eye at violations of the so-called prohibition law.

It is with equal clarity The Times opposed the election of Mr. Woolwine in his campaign for Governor.

But The Times does not lend its voice,
influence or approval to any proscriptive persecution of Mr. Woolwine.

Mr. Woolwine offered himself as a possible Governor on a light-wine-and-beer platform. He got a vigorous answer from the voters. He was turned down; so were his ideas.

But the platform upon which he chose to run for Governor certainly did not constitute misconduct of the office of District Attorney.

At best, the recall is a doubtful institution. If it is to be used at all it should be used justly and righteously; not to remove from office an official on the ground that he held some other office, he might do something or other.

Mr. Woolwine has made a voluntary and apparently frank statement that he intends to enforce the Wright Act, now that it has passed, to the full extent of his ability and the resources of his office.

Now, however, Mr. Stephens owes nothing

CLOSE-UPS OF EUROPE

League of Nations and international agreements.

It is so consolidatory that some of the radical union-labor publications have denounced it, asserting that their cause would lose if the Labor ticket were to win. This split in the Labor ranks increases
the prospects of the Conservatives to win an absolute majority.

Liberal and Conservative newspapers are jeering at the leaders of the Labor party, calling them many Uriah Heeps. They are charged with putting forth a platform which is a kind of Greek wooden horse. The Liberals and Conservatives claim that the coalition of the Conservatives and the Labor members will throw off their cloak of conservatism and appear in the Red garr of Communists.

Political campaigns in Great Britain are sharp, short, but not always decisive. In reality the campaigns are going on all the time. Parliament may be dissolved at the will of the government group in the House and no election is given to the last summer to talk with a number of persons who said they were candidates for Parliament;
and when I asked when the election
would be they reply, "Who knows?"
Maybe this year; perhaps not until next year."

Switzerland, the alleged home of the initiative and the referendum, is beginning to suffer from the direct-legislation crop that it has sown.

It is through this process that the coalition has passed from Parliament to the country. At time of crisis the British electorate takes a common-sense view of political conditions. They are seldom carried away by rule-or-ru-man. The Labor party in England and Scotland has never been able to bring the workers as a mass under its banner. The British workmen like most of those in this country, have due regard for a full dinner. They have sent to the election committee to go to report on the effects of Communism
there, and they are convinced by the reports brought back that it will not work.

Whilst in London last summer
I visited some of the workmen's clubs and I was very agreeably surprised by the amount of conservative thinking there. They have not been social heroes of the switchboard, remaining at their posts of duty even at the risk of their lives. Under normal conditions the work of a telephone
operator is trying, and if dissatisfied patients would only remember this it might
bring about co-operation and better service. But the awards of these medals is a proof of devotion to duty that reflects great credit upon a class whose work is important in the everyday business of life.—
(Philadelphia Inquirer)

It would certainly be an injustice to remove him from office until he has had a chance to show his good faith.

DEVOTION TO SERVICE

It is pleasant to notice that eight of the employees of the Bell Telephone Company have gone for "devotion to public service."
One was a woman who was in the Bryn Athyn wreck last December and who took her post at a nearby farm house and remained there for hours until every message of aid had been successfully transmitted.

This is not the first time that women operators have performed heroic service in the field of unemployment relief. Some of them have been social heroes of the switchboard, remaining at their posts of duty even at the risk of their lives. Under normal conditions the work of a telephone
operator is trying, and if dissatisfied patients would only remember this it might
bring about co-operation and better service. But the awards of these medals is a

PAID IN ADVANCE

By The Foothill Philosopher

I don't know what may "happen" to me tomorrow, but I do know this: it will have to be something that makes my heart stop beating if it succeeds in making my heart stop singing.

I'm no more worried about the "tomorrow of death" than I am about the "tomorrow of life"—and today I don't know anybody in the world that's getting more "kick" out of existence than yours truly.

Resurrection? Well, it seems to be a "fact in nature." Anything that can be "membered" can be dismembered and remembered and rejoin the dust of the Foothill Philosopher, a million miles from me. I've convinc'd He will know exactly how to go about it. If He doesn't—well, that's His business. I'm not telling Him, now, what he must do about it—and I won't argue with Him a millennium hence. However, the "Something" in me that is capable of discussing this matter, now, will probably be on deck
of the good ship Life when this frail craft
on which I'm sailing now has been swallowed in the Gulf of Time.

It is remarkable how many (and here is an example of the resurrection of thought forms)
how my blessed old Sunday-school teacher used to say to his class: "Boys, you know how it hurts when you burn your finger on the stove? Well, if you are not good in this world when you die you will be put into a fire and your whole body will burn forever—and just think how badly
THAT will hurt." And his gentle suggestion has compelled me to think about that ever since.

But the National Liberals can not be led, even by Lloyd George, to vote as a group with the Labor members; for they are as opposed to a Labor government as the Conservatives themselves.

From the London and Glasgow cables we have learned that they do not lead any large part of their own followers to support a policy tending toward Communism. The British workmen will not follow
the dictation from Moscow. The platform of the Labor party contains a plank declaring against either political or industrial revolution.

In fact, the Labor platform does not differ in a large degree from that of the Democratic party in 1920. It declares opposition alike to reaction and revolution. It declares against the expropriation of private property by the government. It declares in favor of the territorial divisions of the country.

EXERTS EFFORT FOR EXTENSION*Chairman Sanborn May File Minority ReportSanta Fe's Willingness to Co-operate CitedCouncil Expected to Favor Line to Harbor*

Chairman Sanborn of the Public Utilities Committee of the City Council is at work on a report of the committee recommending that the long-pending application of the Santa Fe to extend its transcontinental railroad to serve Los Angeles Harbor be granted.

If Councilmen Conaway and Sparks, the other members of the committee, refuse to sign the report, Chairman Sanborn is expected to file it early next week, as representing the minority of the committee and thus causing the entire matter to go before the Council itself.

URGES RECOMMENDATION

Since the Santa Fe has made valuable concessions to the city in amending its application to meet the wishes of the Councilmen who desire to protect the city in every way from the hazard of crossing both sides of the existing right of way on Slauson avenue and on the new line of tracks in the harbor district, Chairman Sanborn has labored long and hard with the other members of the committee to join with him in recommending the granting of the franchise. Councilman Sanborn holding that the Santa Fe has met the city more than half way in making the changes in its application.

Indicating the Santa Fe's desire to co-operate with the city in every way, the corporation has agreed to extension from El Segundo to the Harbor, General Manager Hibbard of the Santa Fe, who is president of the corporation, organized by the Santa Fe to build the extension has laid before the committee the following statement in writing:

CO-OPERATION OF ROAD

In connection with the application for a permit or franchise to construct the contemplated harbor line, the railroad has agreed to lay tracks in the city of Los Angeles and in confirmation of the statement made by a representative of the railroad to the committee on public utilities at the hearing before that committee on the 6th inst., this is to say that if and when the time arrives that this road finds it necessary to run from Los Angeles Harbor shall have increased to such volume as to make the further use of its so-called Slauson Avenue line for the transportation of such freight a serious menace to travel on the public highways crossing said line, and as far as possible to reduce to such travel and the then duly constituted authorities of the city of Los Angeles shall deem it to best interest all concerned that some other route be found which freight, the undersigned will freely, and in good faith, co-operate with the city to that end."

This road will be incorporated in Chairman Sanborn's favorable report, together with the previous concessions made by the Santa Fe, which include the elimination of double tracking on Slauson avenue. This concession alone will reduce the train movement on Slauson avenue more than 90 per cent.

PASSAGE IN SIGHT

With the Santa Fe matter transferred to the City Council early this week follows the return of President Cristwell and Councilman Wheeler who are out of the city. It is expected that despite the opposition of Councilmen Conaway and Sparks, the chairman of the Senate committee on Public Utilities, the report will be adopted, and the City Attorney instructed to prepare the franchise, thus ending the railroad's long delay in securing authority to the right to build its twelve and one-half-mile extension. The Federal Interstate Commerce Commission has already given its approval to the project and the State Railroads Commission will do likewise, after the city franchise is granted and forwarded to the State commission.

HEAVY LOSS IN STUDIO FIRE

Fire, originating in the cutting rooms of the Richard Thomas Production Company at 11800 N. High Van Ness avenue, Hollywood, damaged the studio building shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday noon. The building was occupied by the administration offices of the "Mae Lynn Comedy Company" and the "Ward Wood Production Company," in addition to the Richard Thomas Company. The loss was estimated by studio officials in the neighborhood of $40,000, several reels of film having been destroyed.

Four fire companies responded to an alarm turned in shortly after the fire started and quickly smothered the flames. On the quick work of the Hollywood firemen was responsible for the saving of the building and preventing the spread of the fire to the Rialto, Wilshire, and Santa Monica, according to eyewitnesses to the conflagration.

The groom is 66 and the bride 50 years of age. Until the completion of a new home planned by Mr. Bryant the couple will reside at 2601 West First street.

COUNCIL VOTES
FOR "MIDDIES"El Retiro Governing Body
Favors ThemHome Real Factor for Good Among GirlsMrs. Dorsey Speaks on Duties of TeachersBY MYRA NYE
"Shall we wear middies and bloomers for breakfast or smoke and skirts?"

This question for discussion before the girls' council of El Retiro this week was decided in favor of middies and bloomers. The deciding factor was the laundry question.

Not that the sixty girls of the council, all wards of the court of Los Angeles, do their own laundry in that beautiful home supported by the county, a home situated high and delightfully in San Pedro Valley, but because they have learned in that home to consider others than themselves.

Among the girls who govern and decide the question affecting them, the majority are daughters of the home; a 15-year-old girl, elderly pretty, who, since she was 8, until a year ago, when she came to El Retiro, had never made less than $100 a month, traveling unopposed in a circus show, dancing a little, singing not badly and all the time adorably pretty as now, exploiting her prettiness, selling a toe of the head, the shins of her curts, the daughter of her bantam and always stopping just short of selling herself. A year ago she was found by the officers at one of the meetings just starting off in a hand-me-down automobile with two young married men and plenty of bootleg stuff. She was brought to El Retiro.

To readjust such lives as these to society and reclaim them are the whole aim of the home according to Miss Lanthia Dinsmore, who told the story before the Friday Morning Club yesterday at the public affairs luncheon. Mrs. Arthur Abramson and Mrs. John J. Abramson presiding.

"Every one of the girls is keen for fun," said Miss Dinsmore, "and so recreation is our great problem to secure proper readjustment." The first time I met Miss Thirteen-Year-Old's face came the expression of an emotion unmixed with vanity or self consciousness.

She was going down to the wash next the El Retiro to roast wiener with the other girls. She wore an all-too-red, red hat and an all-too-red tie but she was prettier than ever.

The laundry girls now took the place of the old sophistication. She was content to exchange simple pleasure for her old travesties of pleasure. It is not easy to readjust the life of a girl who has been raised only to support herself but sisters and a mother in luxury and have her willing to take up the duties of a sixth-grade school girl. Yet this is what she is doing now and with gusto.

Miss Dinsmore's plea for the women as part of the electorate of the county and thus to interest first hand in the institution to take an interest in the welfare of the laundry girls met with instant response. Gifts of pretty clothing were offered and the promise of visits to El Retiro.

CANCER—No. III

Yesterday I gave you the causes that I believe have contributed to the increase in cancer cases. I did not include among those causes the injection into the system of "dithy animal matter"—the favorite word combination that the anti-medical propagandists hail as a cause—because, in the first place, they have explained very well that medicines are not the "dithy animal matter" wreaking with disease germs that these people would have you believe.

And in the second place, they have no data for the foundation of their conclusions, for they have collected no statistics of these people who have died from cancer to know whether they have ever been treated with some of vaccines.

And, in the third place, even if they had been so treated, there is no reason to suppose that the cancer cases due to their treatment.

What is cancer, and what is the direct cause of cancer? First, let me give you a little information on tumors in general. The word tumor means a swelling, but in the restricted sense it means a new growth of cells not due to inflammatory origin.

For instance, suppose some of the cells that compose the breast, after maturity should begin to grow and multiply, as they did in embryonic and growth life when the breast of a nursing mother might swell. But a swelling of the breast is a tumor. But a swelling of the breast of a nursing mother might be due to an engorgement of the milk ducts, or to an inflammation due to some germs that had gotten in through a crack in the nipples.

Followed by constructive work on our part," said Mrs. Abramson, "else talk and effort are wasted."

Women's City Club

After a period given over to the discussion of political and civic matters, the Women's City Club Monday turned its attention to the matter of planning for a new club house. Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, chairwoman of the building committee, presented a motion before the members of the club for their discussion, on the subject of whether the building committee function as such, or remain as it is now, merely a housing committee. There was a spirited discussion of the matter from the floor, but the real issue was postponed until later.

The program at the club was purely social. The session was on the activities and convention of the National Educational Association. Mrs. Susan B. Dorsey, City Superintendent of Schools, spoke of the duty which rests on the teacher of today, in educating the men and women of tomorrow. She was followed by Miss Anna E. Smith, Librarian of Virgil Junior High School, who told of the many things brought up at the conference in Denver in July.

She mentioned the part the school library is playing in the educational life of the child, saying that school libraries are the centers of immediate interest, the amplification of the text book.

Miss Ida C. Iverson, president of the Los Angeles Teachers' Club, spoke on the association from a "classroom standpoint," giving a brief history of its work since 1887, when it was founded, until today, when its membership totals 100,000 teachers.

Wed in London

Of interest is the news from England of the wedding of Miss Ida Whitaker, until recently a resident of Glendale, and William P. Penn of Tunbridge Wells, England. A native of Glendale, Miss Whitaker is the daughter of the late John L. Whitaker, who for twenty years was associated with the First National Bank in Los Angeles.

The marriage took place at St. Mark's Church, Hamilton Terrace, London, Thursday, October 25, at half past one. The bride wore a traveling costume of brocade velvet, trimmings of fur and a touch of gold embroidery, a brown velvet hat with shaded yellow crepe feather and pale yellow crepe de chine blouse, fastened with a handsome brooch of topaz and diamonds. Her gift of a bouquet was a spray of golden yellow "melody" roses, with blossoms-of-the-valley, tied with yellow ribbon to which a lucky horseshoe of white leather was attached. She was attended by Miss Victoria Eyes, a niece of Mrs. Reginald Whitaker, and was given away by Dr. Van Vreast, friend of both families, and a former resident of Glendale. The bridegroom's best man was his brother, and in the immediate wedding party were Mrs. J. L. Whitaker, mother of the bride, the Misses Minnie and Emma Pantaleon, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mr. George Hartman, a cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the temporary London home of the bride's mother, and the happy couple departed for their honeymoon in the Isle of Wight. On their return they expect to make their home in or near Tunbridge Wells, Mrs. Whitaker a widow.

An interesting feature of this wedding is the fact that it took place in the same church where the bride's father and mother were married, and she and her brother christened. RAIL STRIKERS TRIAL BEGINS

Have Difficulty Securing Unbiased Jurors

Conspiracy is Charged in Train Abandonment

Defense Holds Men Merely Quis Their Jobs

The case of the government against eight members of the Big Four brotherhoods, C. E. Holley, C. I. Fox, E. Arkbauer, L. E. Woodbeck, E. H. Reynolds, E. F. Prasner, R. H. Clements and John A. Stecklein, charged with conspiring to abandon the westbound train over the Santa Fe Railway, at Needles, Cal., on the afternoon of August 15, is in full tide before a jury in U. S. District Judge Blodges' court.

Most of the day was spent trying to get the jury and the question of the union and nonunion sympathies was raised in the examination of every member of the jury panel.

One juror said he had been compelled to join the blacksmith's union against his will; another was on the abandoned train and he was not afraid to speak about it; the train left in the desert, and he had not forgotten his worry; others had a prejudice against all unions, and favored the open shop—they were all excused by the court.

The jury as finally selected is as follows: Louis V. Corleyton, William Jones, Al J. Stevens, J. J. McClary, W. H. Russell, William Volkert, Whittier, J. E. Henderson, Charles A. J. Spurrier, Alexander L. Cooper, Henry Adams, Abraham, and J. A. Bauer.

TELLS OF DEMANDS

The first witness for the government was John A. Christian, division superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, at Needles. He said that on August 10, about 1 p.m., he was waited on by a committee consisting of five of the defendants, Fox, Arkbauer, Reynolds, Woodbeck and Prasner, who came from the Big Four and told that the men demanded the immediate removal of all guards of the Santa Fe Company, at Needles.

He told them that he could not do that until he had time to consider the matter. He could not give them an immediate answer. He asked them to communicate with General Manager Hirsch in Los Angeles, and this request was not entertained by the committee, and an hour later the trains were stopped.

The evidence of the witness went into details as to the situation at Needles, and he was cross-examined at some length by counsel for the strikers, Jud Rush and W. B. Birne. The government's attorneys were Hiriam C. Todd, special assistant to the Attorney-General, George C. Hirsch, and Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Herron.

The examination of the prospective jurors covered every phase of the question of union and nonunion labor.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

The questioning of Judge Blodges as to the qualifications of the jurors left him to be decided by attorneys for either the government or the defendants. Several of the members of the panel were excused because they admitted they were pro-union or anti-union, and others were allowed to go for the reason that they felt that if trains were stopped and the mail and passengers were abandoned, there would not be command of any force that brought about such a condition, whether it was the "intent" to do so, or whether the result followed the striking.

Several members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association were in the panel and were asked if they opposed union labor. They said they did not, but favored the open shop.

"You mean by that you desire to hire whom you please whether they are members of union or not," he asked. "Is the adaptability of the man and his adaptability, for the job?" said Judge Blodges.

"Certainly," replied the questioned man.

Those who employ labor, and who are members of the association, said they had both union and nonunion men on their pay rolls; that the value of a man on a particular job was the only test.

COURT EXPLAINS

In introducing the prospective members of the panel Judge Blodges explained that the eight defendants were charged with conspiracy, that is, to stop the Santa Fe train at Needles, Cal., on the morning of August 15, last.

He said the men had a right to strike for a grievance against the railroad company; that they had a right to do this; their employment may have been to induce others to quit, but that they had no right to conspire to stop interstate traffic, either passengers or the mail. If the management contended, he said, that the man struck knowing that to do so would stop the train; that they had confederated among themselves to do this in order to get the railway authorities to accede to their demands.

It is a contention of the defense that the only overt act of the accused was to do this, to get their employment on the train that morning, and that after doing so, they did not go near it, while the government will attempt to show that the only overt act of the men was to stop the train at Needles, but that the chiefs of the Big Four brotherhoods wired members all along the line of the Santa Fe Railroad to follow suit, and a conspiracy to tie up the traffic completely from one end of the road to the other.

SAVETTE, Nov. 15.—Residents of Savette have decided in favor of renaming the streets on a numerical system. It was announced by the Chamber of Commerce, following a mass meeting last night. C. W. The meeting was attended by several hundred citizens.

Public Works Board Truck Deal Held Up

The attempted purchase by the city of sixty trucks for the engineering department calling for an expenditure of more than $200,000 having been held up by court injunction proceedings.

Garford Motor Truck Company, which secured one-third of the order, has requested the Board of Public Works to accept delivery on seventeen of the trucks which it was allotted under the contract now being attempted.

On October 15, the Garford Company forwarded its request to the Council for such action as the Council might desire to take and making for instructions. The board did point out, however, that the trucks were urgently needed by the engineering department.

Although the Garford Company

would be willing to take its chances on receiving payment for the trucks under a favorable court decision upholding the legality of the contract, it is believed that the City Council will not authorize a delivery of the trucks until the courts have acted.

The case as finally selected is as follows: Louis V. Corleyton, William Jones, Al J. Stevens, J. J. McClary, W. H. Russell, William Volkert, Whittier, J. E. Henderson, Charles A. J. Spurrier, Alexander L. Cooper, Henry Adams, Abraham, and J. A. Bauer.

Beauties of All Races

All get their white teeth in this new-day way.

Careful people of some fifty nations now use a new way of teeth cleaning. To millions of women in every clime it is bringing prettier teeth.

Leading dentists, all the world over, are advising its adoption. It means better tooth protection.

Are you still clinging to old methods, when all about you can see what this new method does?

You must fight film.

Old ways of teeth cleaning proved disappointing. Teeth still discolored, still decayed, as most people know. Tooth troubles constantly increased until very few escaped.

Dental science found the reason in a film.

In that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effetively combat it. So the well-brushed teeth of millions were kept clouded more or less by that film.

Film also holds food substance which forms and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. It forms a breeding place for germs, and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Despite the tooth brush, all those troubles became alarming in extent.

Now they combat it.

Millions now combat that film. Dental research found two effective ways. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. This is done daily and gently, without the use of harmful grit.

Dental authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise them.

"UNIT" STOCK DEAL ON TRIAL

Promoters in State Watch Bakersfield Legal Battle Testing Securities Statute

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 14.—State Commissioner of Corporations Daugherty, Field Deputy Dist.-Atty. Conway of Kern County and an array of legal talent from Bakersfield lined up this afternoon in Justice of the Peace Haggerty's court in Maricopa in the preliminary skirmish of a case of State-wide importance, which may determine the legality of "unit" oil and mine deals.

The defendant in the action is B. E. Martin, a new comer to Bakersfield, who is charged with failing by Deputy Dist.-Atty. Dorsey, on behalf of the State, to bring recently through the office of Dist.-Atty. Dorsey, according to a bill of complaint filed by State authorities, Martin violated the statutes by the sale of mining units, not having obtained the necessary permit from the department.

Owing to the importance of the present action, Commissioner Daugherty personally took charge of the proceedings and it is understood that a contest which will fully determine the power and authority of the department to enforce legislation of this nature is now under way.

INTEREST KEEN

Proponents of oil and mining securities all over the State, it is said, have centered their attention on the outcome of the action against Martin and public officials are closely watching the result with a view of finding out the extent of their powers under the law.

In their answer to the bill of complaint filed, Martin's counsel asserted that the sales in question were made on behalf of the State and that the corporation had no right to do so.

After the trial he made a jail-break and was traced to this city where he was arrested.

Dickerson, who made a mystery of his identity, was taken into custody at the City Jail in this city in March, 1920, was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary last April after he had pleaded guilty to complicity in the killing of a man in Birmingham, which occurred in February, 1920.

After being apprised here, Dickerson attempted to make a getaway to New Orleans, an Alabama officer, armed with regulation papers, could arrive. He was trailed across the country and finally captured under the sale of units instead of certificates that is not contemplated in the proposed law of the State.

The sale of units, it is asserted, is exclusively conducted in many parts of the country.

HOT FIGHT EXPECTED

In the present action, Martin is charged with having violated an unwritten agreement with W. C. Campbell, general superintendent of the Padiol Oil Company, J. F. Smith, Kerto, C. and F. Saunders, Bakersfield, and other trustees in what is known as the Bally Boy Mine property near Randsburg. The transactions are alleged to have begun on August 21, and on September 16, 1921, when a $1,000 Cansfeld pall $1,000, Smith $500 and Saunders $200 for their shares.

According to Commissioner Daugherty the agreements made between Martin and the purchasers are clearly a violation of the State and there is no reason to doubt that the State has ample power to enforce its provisions.

Principals in the case assert that the ultimate will go to a finish and that ultimately it will reach the Supreme Court for final decision.

SUSPECT DENIES HE IS SLAYER

James W. Allen Brought From Oakland for Quizzing on Mesa Drive Murder

chained and padlocked, over the terminus of which is located the lake avenue, which runs through the heart of Silverlake Heights. It is charged that the ranch property has been condemned by the Comptor permit only certain persons to drive over the public street or private way, as the case may be. The petition condemns the Comptor as having "unduly delayed."

The complainant further recites that Mrs. Comptor prevented city workers from putting up street signs bearing the name of "private streets," and that the Comptor permit only certain persons to drive over the public street or private way, as the case may be.

He admitted, the police say, that he was in Los Angeles October 16 last, on the night of which the wealthy cafe owner disappeared from the city. He said he was seen by Dabelich that day. He declared, however, that he had left for San Francisco by stage at 6 p.m. that day.

He also denied Mr. Daugherty's charge that he had offered on several occasions to "get" Dabelich, and to have him beaten and robbed for her benefit, when she complained that he was not home.

Allen is said to have given a circumstantial account of his movements, which do not tally with the theory that he got up one time. Why it was not necessary to go through they'd run over the children and the chickens. I don't know anything about law, but I was held there pending the arrival of the Los Angeles officers with a warrant.

The police are still searching for E. Russell Walker, alias Russell Wright, who is wanted in connection with a mail robbery charge, complicity in Dabelich's death has been issued. He is alleged to have been with Allen in Los Angeles on October 16.

FEELS SORRY

"I feel sorry for the folks that bought lots back there, and we let those who live there through our company. We didn't have any trouble with them. My husband, I heard something about the city making us give up our property for a road, and I don't believe them."—Mrs. Elvira Griswold, 6125 Silverlake Avenue, who has been a public thoroughfare for many years, and the question may hinge on that ancient unwritten law about thoroughfares made public by no other procedure than use.

WIFE JEALOUS; SEEKS DIVORCE

The failure of Mrs. Elvira Griswold to trust her husband, Hobart Griswold, after forty-one years of married life was cited by him as a cause for divorce in a suit filed in Superior Court yesterday. Hobart Griswold asserted that his wife was unreasonably jealous, constantly accusing him of associating with other women.

The wife, however, asserted that the ranch end of Silverlake Avenue has been a public thoroughfare for many years, and the question may hinge on that ancient unwritten law about thoroughfares made public by no other procedure than use.

HE RUINED HER PUMPS

Olive Hogan has Novel Charge In Divorce Plaintiff

Dancing in dancing pumps is one thing, but dancing on them is another, according to the plaintiff. Olive Hogan states yesterday in her suit for divorce from Ray E. Hogan, station agent at Tipton.

What constitutes cruelty, she asserted, is that when she came home from a dance one evening, her husband took the pumps from her feet and danced them on the floor. She sued for further damages because she also accused her of meeting other men, which she declares is false.

The other phase of the case involved her husband's conduct when he was permitted to return to the county roads during that time.

RELIEF WORKER SAFE

Fear for the safety of Miss Steele, N. Loushridge of Lincoln, Neb., a missionary and Near East Relief worker at Tarsus, Turkey, was dispelled this week when a switch was turned on a spot occupied by a housekeeper and turned the replies to the advertisement.

The Hogans were married in 1911. Community property involved in the suit is valued at $40,000.

OAKS ASKS FOR MORE OFFICERS

Traffic Situation is Beyond Department Control

One Hundred Additional Men for Squad Wanted

Board Backs Chief in Asking Help of Council

Declaring that traffic conditions in Los Angeles are deplorable and that the situation is growing worse, Police Chief Oaks yesterday asked the Board of Police Commissioners to support him in an application to the City Council for one hundred additional men for the traffic squad.

The board unanimously approved the chief's recommendation, and the matter will come before the Council's Finance Committee at its meeting this afternoon.

Chief Oaks in his letter to the police board said:

LETTER FROM CHIEF

"I desire to call your attention to the traffic situation in the city, and seek your assistance in bringing that situation under a better and safer control."

"As you no doubt are aware, the volume of traffic passing through our streets every day is of such magnitude that transit is of the most difficult and dangerous nature. I have exercised every care in this department, but it would be difficult to pursue the purpose toward controlling and regulating the traffic situation for the proper safety and convenience of the public, but despite our efforts the situation is growing worse."

"The constantly increasing volume of traffic on our streets and boulevards has outrun our present inadequate force, and I am compelled to ask for additional strength to provide control of the daily record of accidents, many of which occur in the traffic division, and to maintain the safety and welfare of the public."

Mr. Dickerson, who was also charged with complicity in the Sunbeam Bank robbery and who was also a prisoner in the Los Angeles City Jail during Dickerson's stay here, is now serving term in the Alabama State prison.

READY TO TALK

The Rev. Edgar F. Daugherty, who stated he attended the meeting, said: "I am safe and sound. I am not apprehended, but was not recognized by the police, but I have never been threatened or molested." He further stated that Monday's meeting was not for the purpose of discussing the possibility of an immediate recall and that no petitions were being circulated.

Mr. Woolwine, declared yesterday in a statement, "I am safe and sound. I am not unthinkingly for the enforcement of all laws as they stand on the statute books, including the Volstead Act, but I am for the modification of such laws as he thought unwise. His statement reads:

CHARGES OUTRAGE

"I have never been controlled or intimidated in the discharge of my duties as District Attorney of this county, but 'even-handed' Justice and law enforcement have been my guiding stars. I have done what I conscientiously believed to be right in each and every case. The attack upon me by certain ministers here in the city, and was nothing less than an outrage, and is founded upon the mere outrage of misrepresentation of the fact. I am safe in saying, for it can clearly be demonstrated from the figures, that the amount of law enforcement in the District Attorney's office of Los Angeles county will compare favorably with that of any such office in the United States."

"So far as my attitude on the Eighteenth Amendment during my campaign for Governor is concerned, I always stated in my public addresses that I was for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act so long as they remained upon the state books, and that they should be unconstitutional if they were not jurisdiction of either the Volstead Act or the Eighteenth Amendment. I have vigorously enforced the provisions of the county law, but I am not in effect a little Volstead Act and co-operated with the United States authorities and the Sheriff's office in regard to all times.

SWINDLED BY FAKE AGENT

spoken and reviled the "agent" as a "dirty crook." But the gentlemanly agent wasn't taking any back talk and he just warned the creature to get out "or get OUT!" And he said it with so much sump-tuous authority that the poor wretch just vacoosered. But my little friend friend had a way she had a stalwart friend just outside the door awaiting emergencies.

REVEALS TRUTH

But when later two girls came in and were just about to sign their beautician contracts and pay their $15 fees, they heard the amazing promise, my little Polish friend lost her last speck of popularity and managed to tell them quite a lot of truths before she vanished through the doorway.

My Polish friend, impressed into taking the dramatic profession, visited a soiled and shabby old studio on Santa Monica Boulevard. Here, on Sunday evenings, one hundred 15-year-olds aspirants assemble and perform silly stunts. My Polish friend, for instance, chewed gum to order, while the director, whose class was professionally abusive, which is most helpful when jobs are discussed later, as he can accompany his posturings with a few strong words.

She took every opportunity to talk to other aspirants—and all of them had received exactly the same promises exactly the same kind of talk about how the very type the studios were looking for, none of them got jobs and most of them were getting bitterly depressed.

But what finally wrecked my Polish friend's chances of a highly paid and glorious career in the cinema was her mean logic. She took up with her the course of her last visit to the agent's office and pointed out that for eight months he had run the self-same adventure—most important when wanted for immediate casting—the self-same one which had first lured her to his door.

TRAPPED

"Oh, I stopped that long ago; they just go on running it on their own account," explained the gentlemanly agent.

"Running it without payment?" she asked. "You tell me that?"

"Yes," he said, "certainly all the newspapers do that."

"I do believe you, I shall find out" said this extraordinary young woman.

Fancy not believing that newspaper advertisements for nothing!

Well, anyone who talks like that to a nice promising agent is most offensive. So even if she is the type that all the studios are looking for, she can't earn about $50 worth of make-up and acting lessons, even if he is casting for thirty-eight studios and could get her work with contract or now, you can quite understand why he would be too hurt to do any such thing, couldn't you?

In the meantime the Woman's Cooperative Alliance of Los Angeles is sending what the Los Angeles women's organizations are doing about it.

Er—by the way—are they even interested in the seductive agents who advertise for urgently needed movie aspirants and fetch them here with glorious promises from all parts of the world? Or is that too low brow?

WAR VETERAN SEEKS DEATH

Clarence Eaton, aged 27 years, a book-keeper and former British soldier, placed his hands diver fashion above his head ready and leaped in front of an automobile at North Broadway and Alpine street, according to witnesses. He received concussion of the brain, a scalp wound and possibly a fractured skull. At the Receiving Hospital Eaton was unable to remember anything of how he had been hurt. He said he had been shell-shocked during the war.

The Dining Room Association, we are notified of the accident. The car which struck Eaton was driven, the police say, by G. W. Totten, 1012 Compton Boulevard, Compton, a 214 doll street, gave a similar account.

"AGENTS" PREY ON THE UNWARY

The lessons were to be of one hour's duration on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with two Sunday afternoons devoted to dramatic work at a Hollywood studio.

The young woman paid $7.50 on the course, purchased the required make-up outfit, and entered the class confidently.

THE MAKE-UP CLASS

At least twenty-five people of all ages and descriptions, with towels pinned over their heads and under their chins, were industriously smearing their faces with green paint—pink and yellow, according to the color of their complexions.

Blue, brown and red markings added interest to their countenances—it look "hard-boiled."

The instructor showed his pupils how to "blow out" their cheeks with brown paint, and how to draw blue lines around their mouths, "so they're bigger," he said.

The students were given a few hours to practice, then the instructor filled the room again with his students.

CHRISTMAS DIARY OF MRS. LATE

Puts Off Shopping Until Last Minute and Can't Understand Why It's Hard

Nov. 20.—Must start buying my Christmas gifts this week. I'm still in the "Shop Early" stuff.

Nov. 27.—MUST get started on that Christmas buying THIS week, surely. Sort of kept putting it off day after day last week, but firmly intend to do it this week—this "Shop Early" slogan is the right one.

Dec. 4.—Dear, dear! I simply MUST buy some things for Christmas now. I'm trying to remember what to do, but what with masses, and those other little things I had to do, I just seemed to neglect it, although I'm a firm advocate of the "Early Shopping" plan. Well, this week will see me get some of them off the week.

Dec. 11.—Funny, but I didn't seem to take a single step last week toward buying anything for Christmas. Sort of grew on me, though, and the stores seemed more than double the pressure on me to know, to be at lowest possible mark, consistent with the possible wage to workers.

Dec. 18.—Well, just a week to Christmas and I haven't bought a thing yet. Started several times last week, but the stores seemed to have more to do with me each time, and I was so tired, I just gave up.

Dec. 25.—Good heavens! I haven't bought a thing for Christmas yet! Will start downtown at once.

Dec. 28.—Dear, dear! I don't understand why these stores have such poor stocks and such POOR service. Here I spent all day yesterday in the stores, and I couldn't find TIGG the 14th to buy a present and SUCH terrible crowds. But I really HAD to take what I could get, because I had to go SOMEWHERE!

Dec. 31.—Well, I'm finally in the stores again, but I'm not sure if I'm getting any real value for my money. In truth, I'm not.

Dec. 31.—I'm not sure if I'm getting any real value for my money. In truth, I'm not.

FURS FIND HIGH FAVOR IN MILADY'S WARDROBE

Wealth of Stunning Cloaks and Stoles in Varied Peltries Are Being Shown

Furs of the most luxurious types are quite a matter of course in the dress of today, and the woman who does not possess them cannot consider herself a woman of fashion.

Hence, a fine fur, if discovered among the remembrances brought by Santa Claus on Christmas morning must cause the recipient to glow with happiness.

So marvelous are the pelts employed in the construction of furred garments, so ingeniously the lines upon which these garments are built, and without becoming coarse to women, that it is small wonder they should find a place in every wardrobe.

From the simple sheathes of pelt, either the animal scarves whole, or strips, deftly fashioned into smart bows or made up to the sumptuous cloak reaching to the hem of the new long skirts, with every length and shape between those two extremes, furs from six months ago come so many.

"Long cloaks," says the head of a leading fur house, "stocks of mink, of mole, of Hudson seal."

"Kolinsky, in its various forms and colorings, declares itself equal to the simple sheathes of pelt, either the animal scarves whole, or strips, deftly fashioned into smart bows or made up to the sumptuous cloak reaching to the hem of the new long skirts, with every length and shape between those two extremes, furs from six months ago come so many."

RECOMMENDED SEAL.

"Seal, always popular, always practical, always charming when touched with other furs of the longer haired type, preferably."

The girl of the matter seems to be: "What's the fur you can compare in the world?"

"Are you seeking the Christmas gift de luxe? Then let it be one of the long cloaks in the popular fur, seal, black, yellowish, sable, Persian lamb."

Is your pocketbook unable to compass anything so lavish, then choose a smaller fur, such as lamb, or seal; quite as modish, to be sure, though less expensive.

A jacquette pictured in the popular magazines, new in fur, in black, with hip belt and cuffs of monkey fur. This brown fur, simply will not go out of style, for its trimming and stitching is the most delicate.

The sides of the jacket are back, the bellied sleeve, the high collar are featured in this smart blouse. Caracal, black, in beige and mustard, are also jacquettes. Some are very stiff. Of course, ornaments for the royal is always wanted for evening events.

The fur of killing, the fur royal is always wanted for evening events. The fur of killing, the fur royal remains enthroned, however, other or policy may wax or wane in favor.

FITCH IS POPULAR.

Fitch is a prime favorite this season, and an example of the great distinction of this fur when wrought upon by genius is accomplished in the "Midnight Sun" robe. The blouses marked in fitch fur are truly spots on the sides of the long cloak, which centered by a brilliant ornament. Framed in "Hudson Seal" which is the lower part of the skirt, this is this marvellous outfit.

In most garments, the less expensive furs are put to use as a lining, although even here, unusual parts had furs.

Velvet Coat Lining Hand-Painted

Fitch Fur and Seal Garment

The "Midnight Sun" might be described as a sumptuous cloak, wherein fitch fur forms side panels, framed in seal. The velvet lining is a hand-painted sunset suggestive of the Far North whence come rich fur garments in Los Angeles.

A Right Merrie Christmas For One's Own Folk

—Choose practically, and thoughtfully, for those whose presence in the family circle makes it charmed to you, and generous will be the blessings bestowed upon you, and happy will be the festive morn for all concerned.

—By thoughtfully, we mean of course that for certain types of people you choose gifts which have for those particular individuals an attraction, confessedly irreproachable.

—By practically, we mean that out of all the gifts which exist for these would-be owners such decided appeal should be chosen which will answer both the appeal, and certain other requirements, for instance, those along the wardrobe line. who wouldn't go simply crazy over them.

"We have our doll-dresses designed and made exclusively for us," the man informed us, which shows just how important a matter a doll is. They come in all periods of history, from the hour-glass waists of the pre-Civil War days to the ultra-modern attire of today—and back to Elizabethan days.

"When it comes from—Germany?" we asked.

"No," replied the man, "from France. By the way, most people have the wrong idea about toys—think most of them are German. Well, then, there's France and England make most of our better boys—what we get from Germany is much as comes from these other countries, and it's lower in quality, too."

"What about dolls?" we asked.

"Come along," he suggested, and led the way to the doll department.

Tons of thousands of dolls, priced from a nickel to as high as $100, are waiting in Los Angeles department stores for the little girls of the city.

The elaborate ones are wonders to behold. With specially made clothes that rival the most exquisite fashions of Lady Duff Gordon, they are indeed a sight to behold.

Little kid gloves that slip on and off, and fit perfectly, cover their tiny hands; the most delicate lace, the most delicate linings; wonderful dresses with bows; masterworks of millinery top them.

"But they're there, and in great perfection and variety than ever before. And lots and lots and lots of them," he said.

"What's the price?" we asked.

"About an 'evening'!"

"So take heed, papa and mamma, to whom you send your baby this year."

"I want something for my baby this year."

"Well, then, you'll get a great kick out of it, too, just take the little ones down to any one of the city's big department stores. Ask Mr. Taylor in Toyland in. And then go there."

"What if I can't open your own eyes as wide as mine?"

"The children's, we'll cut our hat, that's all."

"And, kiddies—just show this to me or pa."

Hold the onion in the bag of a form white paring and the odor will cling to your hands.

YOUTH TO WEAR PEPPY CLOTHES

Dash of Jazz in New Suits Encouraged

Dame Fashion Drew Line for Maturity

Winks at Son's Foibles; Not So Father's

Young men don't usually wear beards.

And they, in the majority of cases, have an equally powerful aversion to wearing the ultra-conservative things of the older class.

They want pep, snap and jazz and they're going to get it.

A dozen of them step over about it all, and often they are the ones that find their extreme manifestations in such atrocities as upon pants, coats where the waistline disappears, wide shoulders, shoulders, arms wide apart, and a tendency to hide a Ford, and Valentine assumes that they steal from their mother's bling-bling dress. The majority of them, though, have no go for it. They stop and wear the happy medium between the "jazz clothes" and the extreme by means of a few simple tricks.

While three or four-cutting sick suits of loose and easy fit are the accepted thing in the pre-teen circle, the others, speedily revolving circles of the younger set, are something with a little more dash and color.

YOUTH MUST BE SERVED

What boots it that Dame Fashion in her stern, monosyllabic tones has had about the skirts that much, more or less, things just naturally ain't?

Just let one of the younger set, say an Old Lady, fashion, and she'll come along with enough to add: "But in certain cases, of course."

And the young man lies himself down to his knees, goes around if he owes the old dame too much, and orders something tight, something with a bit of a waist, something with a patch pocket here or a patch there; something with the diffused dynamite effect that the builders didn't put into the other models.

As for the materials of these young men's suits, they are the same as the conservative style.

Unfinished worsteds, cashmere, homespun and tweeds lead the merry procession.

Brown seems to be the most popular color this fall, and coats do not run as high in the popularity vote, though, as striped materials. Some checked stuffs run well, too. The all-over check is wide-fair to become quite the most desirable thing among the snappy dressers.

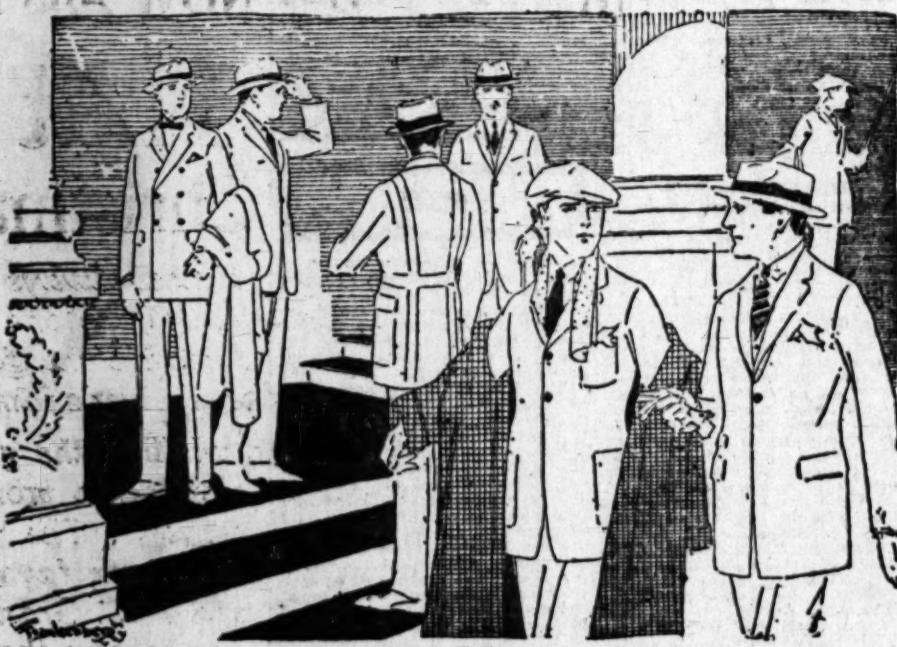

As for one-button, it's quite all right, too, when in a cutaway or dinner coat of conservative cut.

As long as the waistline is natural and not too tight, and where it ought to be, where the shoulders are, there is no real objection on the part of the young man to the waist being brought into evidence.

As for one-button, it's quite all right, too, when in a cutaway or dinner coat of conservative cut.

Belonging, evidently, to the clan of the corduroys though softer and more comfortable, are silk and satin in dark blue and other favorite shades. The material is checked, ending in long points from a band with a ropelike silk stitching and bow to the bust.

Styles in Young Men's Suits

For Youths Who Like Novelty
Above are shown the "happy medium" styles predominating this season. Materials most affected are worsteds, cashmere, homespun and tweeds.

KNITTED OUTERWEAR

The short, choppy looking thing that features the ultra-style four-button coats.

Other distinctive features of what may be termed the young men's style include that peaked jacket, the coat that comes to the waist, slanting pockets instead of straight; pockets without flaps, etc., etc. It will be heaven-sent boon to the man who never keeps his caps out, anyway, ever when he has them on. The most venturesome coat that can be found nearest to the edge of good taste, there's an additional little pocket up on the right-hand side which is to be expected.

And the young man lies himself down to his knees, goes around if he owes the old dame too much, and orders something tight, something with a bit of a waist, something with a patch pocket here or a patch there; something with the diffused dynamite effect that the builders didn't put into the other models.

As for the materials of these young men's suits, they are the same as the conservative style.

Unfinished worsteds, cashmere, homespun and tweeds lead the merry procession.

NOVEL SWEATERS

A local housekeeping specialty of its sweater department shows many novelties in both silk and wool. Among those noted are: An elaborate patterned silk with a gold and silk embroidery, consisting in long points from a band with a ropelike silk stitching and bow to the bust.

SHAWLS

Shawls of angora retain favor and are found both popular and pretty in the new designs of color contrasting with rather sombre backgrounds in tawny tones.

Some are made in broad, colorful rows that complete these snugly wraps, whose breadth renders them protective to the woman who starts out with a somewhat shivering heart.

"One more sweater," is the Oliver Twist-like demand of every feminine heart, and hence the fastidiousness of the wearer is cast aside.

It is a good example is built upon straight lines and has two alt pocket flaps at the front breadth.

TRAILING SKIRTS BRING WOMEN INTO REBELLION

New York Society Folk Decide They Prefer Garments Which Clear Floor, at Least

BY ELIZABETH SHARP
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Feminine New York is in revolt! At least a certain very important phalanx of the leading society women have set in motion a revolution. No, it isn't a question of "wet" or "dry," nor yet a moral issue, save as some croakers may predict death and disaster if certain tendencies are adhered to. The thing may drag along for some time, ere decisive action; or at least it was feared that it might, until the other evening. I refer—have you not guessed it?—to the matter of trailing skirts.

Now, it is no one's business if a woman wishes to adopt a trailing skirt for wear at home; but when she dons it and drags it along the streets, the public is concerned, or so decided an influential clique—sometimes designated as the "four-handed." You see, since women are so fully clubbed and politically emancipated, they feel that they should do something in the matter of reform and reform is so very difficult, once an evil gets under way, that this influential circle, be思ought them to set about reform at once—to do their nipping in the bud—mean the proper sort of nipping, mind you. So, they met and resolved and carried the question—and among themselves—in the negative for the street-sweeping skirt.

ALWAYS COMPLAINT
In case this spreads, it will be time for a senatorial Veto-act. But would it not be tiresome if women's dress had nothing to complain about, or to be complained of by our critics? Half the fun of being a woman is wearing shorts—not shorts, but shorts.

In memory, however, there is a time when some article of feminine apparel has not been considered immoral, if not actually indecent. I suppose even Cleopatra's perfectly modest attire was not without some snuffing at the old women who watched her pass and possibly by some men, who took critical note of her attire.

I have often wondered if dress did not have more to do with handing us down in history than our good works. Think how many revolutions have been toward the making of our garment history in the last several years! And monkey fur still fringes every garment, come by any stretch of imagination, be made to friend or foe. And mole is as popular as ever. What a blessing that the poor little creature could not see what they were coming to! But oh, the new mole stockings are sumptuous! More useful, too, than the mole were.

It is my opinion that few will hold out against the wearing of the new frocks and gowns, whether they trail or clear the ground. Ah, but the dressmakers are clever! Mme. La Mode points her darts with hems and points. So expert are the fabric sinks, velvet brocades that they glide into feminine affections, whether they trail, train or hold aloft as many inches from the floor as the wearer of the street dress does. This, by the way, is contradictory. One week comes a cable that Parisianesses are wearing skirts seven inches from the floor, while the next week say skirts clear by eight generous inches. Now, wouldn't it be a joke if, after instituting a reform, there was nothing to reform? But if we are to have a new fashion, we would like to suggest a school for training men to avoid stepping on them. I recall a season when trained gowns were in vogue—but one of the first fashions to go was a wretched first hour by an awkward man who carried off the bass and part of the hubbub of the gowns. The more he tried to extricate himself the more he entangled. And, I believe, had he dared he would have fled the room and left the house.

CIRCULAR SKIRT
Now, if we keep on trailing I wonder if Congress may not pass in its last session a bill forbidding to have skirts? Here is something vital to man, a matter of concern to his every step. He really should take up the matter of the train. In fact, he should do it. The circular skirt may do its full share toward downing the train. The new circular skirt is full, you know; in fact, it can scarcely be anything else. So, upon the long bodices or blouses, this skirt has sprung into sudden favor. We did hear rumors of it before it was upon us, but we can't say, is connected with the new style between the steps. Some call it but the fad of certain dressmakers, but for myself, I believe it will take. It is so logical since we have had a number of other movements in skirts or in fashions that I think they are about due. If you will notice, even fashion has a sort of revolution.

I may be almost imperceptible, something like the fables changing of the polaric center, or the tide in the Japan current, a thing to absorb the attention of all fashions during years of study, but the fact remains—fashion does have and, moreover, fashion has a

HALF BELT SPORT SUIT REAL STYLE

The Thing for Young Men
The four-piece, half-belted sports suit, with patch pockets and piping shoulders, is very good this year.

Street Dress of Twill Has Strong Appeal

Practical, chic and fraught with the charm of the season's best lines, a street dress exemplifying the possibilities of the sensible in attire, is of Poole twill. The twill is a light dress depends for its high note of charm upon the cinture-like girdle, set at a low waist-line.

Composed of gold and braid and gold-colored soutache, this girdle has a deep point in front and comes to a narrow band at the back. With it may be worn the hat having similar piping and the fashion recently adopted for hats. The facing is of black fur, the sectional crown of satin and the ornament of glittering stones in the favorite coloring, framed in gold.

Daring Spirit Expressed in Pajamas

Expressive of the daring spirit of today, the women's dress is the same little bit of boldness which has been shown at the shop where exclusive apparel from New York and Paris abounds—this bewitching creation is of black crepe de chine and yellow—the Halloween colors. The neither garment is in the form of a jumper. The close trousers, topped by a natty little cambric waist, with stripes on the shoulders. Yellow piping runs along the back, edges the garment and finishing the intriguing little pockets. The top garment is a slip-on, square in shape to begin with but the corners turned to advantage to form one sleeve and falling in cape shape behind and front. This fascinating overgarment is bound with piping of black and metallic in which the piping is affected in such uneven seams upon the trousers is exceptionally clever, and in fact, the entire suit is such as to foster covetousness in any feminine heart and to cause gratitude should it be found in a Christmas package.

MALE DRESS CHART OUT

Correct Attire for All Occasions Outlined in Book Issued by Clothing Store

A correct dress chart for all occasions is being given its patrons by one of the downtown men's clothing stores. It presents, in comprehensively tabulated and charted form, a review of what is proper to be worn on certain occasions and at certain times. It may be transcribed as follows:

For day dress: Evening dress, ball, reception, formal dinner or theater party; Chesterfield overcoat, full striped or worsted trousers, or to match coat; high silk hat with felt band; pleated or silk linens or pique white shirt; wing or poke collar, black or white four-in-hand cravat, or the once-over; kid gloves, patent leather button shoes with kid tops or patent leather pumps for dancing; pearl or moonstone links and studs; stud and cravat pins.

FOR EVENING

Evening dress: Evening wedding, ball, reception, formal dinner or theater party; Chesterfield overcoat, full striped or worsted trousers, or to match coat; high silk hat with felt band; wing or poke collar, black or white shirt; wing or poke collar, black or white four-in-hand cravat, or the once-over; kid gloves, patent leather button shoes with kid tops or patent leather pumps for dancing; pearl or moonstone links and studs.

FOR BUSINESS

For business and morning wear: Chesterfield or Balmain overcoat, single or double-breasted sack coat suit; vest to match or of fancy fabric, derby or soft hat; striped or plain white shirt; stiff or soft fold collar; wing or pique shirt; wing or fold collar, black silk tie; lace or plain kid gloves; dark leather belt; tan or grey cap or mocha or chamois gloves; laced calf or brown shoes, either high or low, or low shoes, or pumps; sports model shoes.

For motor, golf, driving and country and "sports" wear in general: Sport overcoat or belted ulster; sport trousers to match; armband or knickerbockers for sports; cap or soft hat; negligee shirt with soft cuffs; soft fold collar or attorney's collar; four-in-hand or stock for riding; tan cap; buck or chamois gloves; laced calf or brown shoes, either high or low, or low shoes, or pumps; sports model shoes.

The four-in-hand is to be of four stripes and diagonal stripes and dots and checks being frowned upon by the more sensitive dressers.

For general business and sports wear, however, the comfortable, not-in-the-way, and always-good-looking bow tie will never be replaced if it is admitted. This year's bow is decidedly small, with little width; no indication of a trend toward flaring styles.

SEPARATE SK

Vogue of Jacqueline Calls for Separately Skirted Smartly

These for wear with sweaters or with solo coats or to don with hats. The separates are inclined to be cut in colorful tones and tawny shades, according to preference. The skirted or plaided skirted suit is the most popular, probably will be some day. The hair is combed and dressed in various ways.

The plaided skirt is short, not over 24 inches, with or without pockets. The plaided skirt is distinctive to have some stripes.

The best liked of the winter skirts is the plaided skirt. That these are good materials without saying.

The plaided skirt is the more often seen in the winter. These are probably the more expensive.

For business purposes, all are probably received.

For dressing-table and toilet articles, the plaided skirt is always complimentary as a gift, implying that they do not necessarily reflect the taste of the owner. The plaided skirt is the more popular, however, the comfortable not-in-the-way, and always-good-looking bow tie will never be replaced if it is admitted. This year's bow is decidedly small, with little width; no indication of a trend toward flaring styles.

LOS ANGELES SCORES AGAIN!

Greatest Toy-Buying Town in World Per Capita Annual Sales $5,000,000, Asserts Expert

Big Stores at Yuletide Are Like Fairyland

Oh, boy!—more up one more tally for Los Angeles! What for, you ask? Well, because in addition to being the greatest city in the world in innumerable other ways, Los Angeles is the greatest toy-buying town in proportion to its size in the world.

"For the Christmas season alone," the toy department head in one of the big stores explained excitedly yesterday, "the big department stores in Los Angeles and over $1,000,000 worth of toys alone."

That means, inasmuch as there are twenty-five days left in what is known as the Christmas rush, that each of those days sees an average of $40,000 spent on playthings for the city's youngsters during the year's total.

The toy expert, loath to estimate,

"It's so hard to arrive at anywhere near a true figure," he explained, "but I am sure that Los Angeles' annual toy sales amount to somewhere around the $5,000,000 mark."

LEADS PER CAPITA
"Of course," he explained, "New York buys more toys than that. And consider the fact that Los Angeles is proportion to size, Los Angeles sales are all out of proportion, and this city's per capita toy consumption, as it might be called, far exceeds any other city."

In several of the big stores here, a whole floor of the big department building is given over to England, which contrary to general belief, is maintaining its sales around, not only at Christmas time.

The variety of toys is beyond all belief. And the variety of the girls is equally amazing.

There range for many simple knickknacks for as low as 5 cents to ingenious mechanical contrivances that sell for as high as $600 or more. In fact, the market is almost infinite.

For instance, in one of the city's stores is a great life-size elephant, operated by electricity, which wags its tail, rolls its eyes, and even has trunk in absolutely life-like manner, even wags its tail! It's for sale though it's a far more elaborate toy than ordinary youngster would ever dream of.

The elephant was manufactured in Chicago, by a man who makes a specialty of making extraordinary mechanical devices in exact imitation of life.

WONDER OF WONDERS
For instance, there is another of his products in Los Angeles—the reproduction of a trained seal, which balances a twirling cube upon its nose while its head wags back and forth. This, too, is life-size—and operated by electric motors.

Still a third of his "toys" also in this city, is the figure of a clown, seated on a revolving barrel, who plays with a toy known as "dia-

Unusual Is This Afternoon Frock

In Black Lace and White Crystal

Black Spanish lace, the off-the-shoulder train and sleeves of this afternoon dress, the bodice and skirt of white crystal lace and embroidery upon black crepe Canton. A new reason for the popularity of black Spanish lace is found in the dress, sketched above, the sleeves being formed from this diaphanous and yet substantial material, as well as the bodice, which is a sequined and tulle-trimmed train. The all-over embroidered black crepe Canton front, which the dress is composed, is used to create the skirt, which happily exemplifies the popular uneven hem line, falling in points front and back. The drapery is confined by a hip band under which the bustle is held in place by a wide belt. The waist is very full and the practical two-wrap bustle effectively prevents catastrophe, the secret of the preference for the double strap may be solved.

REMARKABLE VANITIES
An ever so smart one of these two-handled vanities in black, or white, with leather and gold side-hack loop. A full-fashioned French plate mirror fills the top, there is a coin purse made of the wairus and five practice vanity cases. These are remarkably good-looking vanity in Italian leatherette, a patent leather which will not peel nor crack. The edges are rounded and it has a full-fashioned mirror. The fittings are of silver or silver-colored metal. These bags are all leather-lined and have coin purse and mirror.

FRENCH IMPORTATIONS

Very beautiful beaded bags—French importations with all that tells of exquisite handwork and clever design, are made of very fine, natural and colored steel beads.

These are made in a variety of colors and combinations.

Like the better bead bags, in general, these are of the drawstring type, with the drawstring, a flat leather strap and a clasp of the beads that make the bag.

From France, too, come lovely bags made of beads and beads richly colored in designs and topped with gold or silver threads and edged at the bottom with deep head fringe. These have mirror and coin purse to augment their appeal.

Other bags made of beads are hand-tooled, hand-lined handbags which are made of genuine steer hide, decorated with small leather shapes and diminutive toolings. Some are made entirely of leather with nothing to suggest a frame; others are topped with a frame of gunmetal. These bags are all leather-lined and have coin purse and mirror.

PARIS LINGERIE IS DAINTY

Niceties in underthings come from Paris and are wholly hand-made. Fine crepe de chine and satin form these dainty things; many of the step-ins and chemises being edged with lines of Alencon laces and ornamented with drawn-work. In some instances the garments are completed at lower edges by flat ruffles of fine bobbinet.

One local house, noted for its lingerie, draws especially upon a house in Paris, where dying of bobbinet has become a fine art. Adorable little step-ins and chemises, of finest crepe de chine, in both solid and printed colors, are the specialties of the new dyed to match the fabric and these are further enriched by scallops each inset with hand work on bolting cloth or veile of cobweb texture.

Subdued Colors Trend Reported in Shirt Styles

Shirts combine the essentials of camisole and bloomers into one pretty garment—equally fetching for bath or evening wear. Crepe de chine, satin and other lace trimmings are the rule in these underthings, which are so closely clinging as to distend the form the merest trifle.

With the information that orchid and white were leading favorites with their clientele and noting some demand for blue, green and yellow, shirt manufacturers permitted several fascinating peeps at their lingerie styles.

Here they stress real laces—niets, venise and Irish crochets and every variety of lace and every detail of these lovely garments is thoroughly exquisite.

Somewhat different and wholly charming was a gown belonging to a set made of orchid crepe de chine. It was developed in the style of deep V-neck and was bordered with fine Brussels net with a cut-out design of the crepe de chine appliques and enhanced with embroidery. The gown, an Empire cut, was long and had a wide sash with narrow belt and had a waistline sash posed high.

Another gown of Empire cut was lavishly trimmed with Irish crochets and openwork embroidery also, it was explained.
